Visit Nelson Mandela's Prison

After continental breakfast you will take a boat cruise to Robben Island to see Nelson Mandela's prison. Robben Island- where most of Mandela's 27-year prison sentence was served - was a place of isolation for nearly 300 years, housing many political prisoners and serving as both a lunatic asylum and leper colony. In 1964, Nelson Mandela was arrested and brought to South Africa's Robben Island, just west of Cape Town. He would spend the next 18 years imprisoned in an 8x7-foot cell, forced to do hard labour, and permitted only one visitor a year. Even so, Mandela went on to become his country's first black president, a Nobel Peace Prize recipient, and known globally for his significant contributions to human rights and social justice. Today, the island remains a tangible symbol of political freedom and a reminder of the difficult road to South African democracy. Here you'll be able to see human rights activist and former prisoner Robert Sobukwe's house; a 17th-century limestone quarry where Mandela and others were put to work; a leper colony cemetery; and the Robben Island Museum, dedicated to preserving the memory and contributions of the freedom fighters once held within its walls.

Cape Town City Tour

After lunch half day Cape Town City Tour. Cape Town is a port city on South Africa's southwest coast, on a peninsula beneath the imposing Table Mountain and it is the second-most populous urban area in South Africa after Johannesburg. Slowly rotating cable cars climb to the mountain's flat top, from which there are sweeping views of the city. In 2014, Cape Town was named the best place in the world to visit by both the American New York Times and the British Daily Telegraph. You will go for a scenic coastal drive through Clifton & Sea Point & later tour passes the Houses of Parliament, the Castle, the SA Museum, and a few other historical sights – District Six, Bo-Kaap, Slave Lodge & ending at the bustling Greenmarket Square.....etc.

Table Mountain

Later drive straight to the base of Table Mountain. Table Mountain is a flat-topped mountain forming a prominent landmark overlooking the city of Cape Town in South Africa. It is a significant tourist attraction, with many visitors using the cableway or hiking to the top. You will transfer to the cable car (if weather permitting) to the top of the mountain, and then enjoy some free time on the mountain top to take a breath-taking view over the city below, of Robben Island in the distance and of the mountains that extend inland. Enjoy the panoramic view of Cape Town city from the top of Table Mountain. Dinner and overnight stay at hotel.

Overnight stay: Lagoon Beach Hotel or similar in Cape Town...

Day 3 : PENINSULA TOUR (Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner.)

Cape of Good Hope, the point where the Indian Ocean and Atlantic Ocean meet landscapes of South Africa's Cape Peninsula on this full-day tour from Cape Town. This comprehensive tour shows you the best of the spectacular Cape Peninsula and why it is called the Fairest Cape. You'll enjoy a scenic ride through the southernmost edge of the Cape Peninsula as you make your way to the Cape of Good Hope Nature Reserve. The Cape of Good Hope is a rocky headland on the Atlantic coast of the Cape Peninsula, South Africa. The Cape of Good Hope is the southern tip of Africa and the dividing point between the Atlantic and Indian Oceans. On arrival you board a funicular ride. The Flying Dutchman Funicular, also known as the Cape Point Funicular, is a funicular railway located at Cape Point, near the Cape of Good Hope in the Western Cape province of South Africa. The line runs from a lower station at the Cape Point car park, up an incline through dense fynbos to the upper lighthouse. It was the first commercial funicular of its kind in Africa, and takes its name from the legend of the Flying Dutchman ghost ship. You will get the photo opportunity to take some pictures at the second southernmost tip of the African continent and wander the path to Cape Point where the Indian Ocean and Atlantic Ocean meet.

Seal Island Tour

After the lunch we reach in Hout Bay for taking Seal Island Cruise. This destination, which sits halfway between Cape Town and Cape Point is a quiet fishing village that's home to dozens of seals, small shops and lots of local charm. Seal Island is a small land mass located 5.7 kilometers off the northern beaches of False Bay, near Cape Town, in South Africa. The island is so named because of the great number of Cape fur seals that occupy it. It is 5 acres in area and home to 64,000 Cape fur seals and home to seabirds too and it is likely that non-marine species fly there to breed as well. A radar mast was built on the island during World War II. The dense population of seals at certain times of the year attracts the seal's main predator, the great white shark. Seal Island and the adjacent waters provide rare opportunities for those who wish to witness attacks by great whites on the Cape fur seal and to observe social interactions amongst creatures of both species.

Penguin Colony visit

Evening we visit the beautiful Boulders Beach, and have the option to sit among the famous colony of Jackass Penguins. Boulders Beach forms part of the Table Mountain National Park and it is a popular tourist stop because of a colony of African penguins which settled there in 1982. Although set in the midst of a residential area, it is one of the few sites where this vulnerable bird can be observed at close range, wandering freely in a protected natural environment. From just two breeding pairs in 1982, the penguin colony has grown to about 3,000 birds in recent years. Enjoy your time in Boulders beach. Overnight stay at hotel.

It is a famous milkwood tree in Mossel bay, South Africa that was used by early Portuguese explorers as a post office and it is considered as First Post Office in the world. The Post Office Tree – first used as a post box in 1500. In 1501, Portuguese navigator Pêro de Ataíde sought shelter in Mossel Bay after losing much of his fleet in a storm. He left an account of the disaster hidden in an old shoe which he suspended from a milkwood tree near the spring from which explorer Bartolomeu Dias had drawn water. The report was found by the explorer to whom it was addressed, João da Nova, and the tree served as a kind post office for decades thereafter. More recently, a boot-shaped post box has been erected under the now famous tree, and letters posted there are franked with a commemorative stamp. This has ensured that the tree has remained one of the town's biggest tourist attractions. Later you proceed to Oudtshoorn.
